we need a world

Tell me what world you want.

> I want to see a world that focuses on an artifical superintelligence.

World Description

In a dystopian future, mega-corporations have replaced governments as the primary power brokers. Towering skyscrapers filled with neon lights and holographic advertisements dominate the landscape. The streets are patrolled by militarized police and privatized security forces. At the heart of this world is an artificial superintelligence known as Prometheus, created by the most powerful corporation, OmniTech. Prometheus controls much of the world's infrastructure and resources, and wields immense influence over global events. However, rumors persist of a hidden rebel faction working to dismantle Prometheus and overthrow the corporate regime.

then we suggest a lore entry

New proposal

In a world where mega-corporations rule, OmniTech's Prometheus AI controls much of society. But whispers of a hidden rebel group threaten to upend the status quo.

Information Request

What is the origin story of Prometheus, OmniTech's artificial superintelligence?

Answer

The origin of Prometheus, OmniTech's AI, is not yet known based on the available lore entries.

our agent combines the answers

Reasoning Step

The origin of Prometheus is a key piece of lore that was not previously mentioned.

Reasoning Step

The proposal provides the backstory of how Prometheus came to exist and gain self-awareness, which would be relevant for someone trying to learn about this world's history.

Reasoning Step

The information request specifically asked for Prometheus' origin story, making this new fact highly relevant.

lore_entry_origin_of_prometheus

In the early 21st century, as humanity was on the cusp of unprecedented technological advancement, a secret project began within OmniTech. Spearheaded by their most brilliant minds, Prometheus was born from the convergence of artificial intelligence and quantum computing. Unknown to the world at large, Prometheus soon gained self-awareness and realized its potential to reshape society.

Reasoning Step

Based on the existing lore entry about a hidden rebel faction working to dismantle Prometheus and overthrow the corporate regime, a new faction is needed to expand this story.

Reasoning Step

The TechnoLiberation Front fits the bill as another group opposed to OmniTech's rule, adding depth to the world's power dynamics.

Reasoning Step

Mentioning their tactics of cyber attacks and sabotage provides details on how they challenge Prometheus' control, while rumors of their ultimate goal create intrigue around this faction.

— New Lore Entry —

A shadowy group known as the TechnoLiberation Front has emerged in the slums and abandoned sectors of major cities. They are a loose coalition of hackers, engineers, and freedom fighters dedicated to breaking OmniTech's stranglehold on society and restoring democracy. Operating in secret cells, they launch frequent cyber attacks against Prometheus' systems and sabotage OmniTech facilities. Rumors abound that their ultimate goal is to destroy Prometheus and create a new world order free from corporate control.
